Scope of our services

Our areas of expertise

Governance, Strategy and Innovation

Good corporate governance is an absolute must in today's business environment. At Grant Thornton, we advise on how to build and implement a governance framework all the way up to senior management by integrating it with the company's strategic position while instilling an innovation-based culture which adds value to today's management and tomorrow's transformation.

People & Change

People are at the centre of every company's development. They drive change and reflect the company's culture. At Grant Thornton, we strive to align our client's strategy, tactics and operations, working with those who are directly or indirectly involved in them in order to build robust and high-performing teams that are committed to your project and fully aligned with your company's values.

Risk & Control

Companies can effectively implement risk management strategies on risks that significantly threaten the company's future by correctly identifying, assessing and measuring the risks affecting them. Grant Thornton's approach ensures that a company's risk management, governance, business strategy, financial position and regulation are perfectly aligned.

Economics & Regulation

We assess the challenges and opportunities arising from today's environment, assisting companies to actively manage foreign exchange and interest rate risks, helping them diversify their sources of funding, supporting them in assessing complex financial products, improving their relationship with banks and rating agencies, and providing them with external Chief Economist services. In terms of regulation, we anticipate changes and help clients adapt to them.

Business Engineering

Business units become profitable by maximizing client and non-client relationships, improving their experiences and effectively managing all channels. We advise clients on how to define and seamlessly execute their business models, using the right technology to manage information and the company's own business processes.

Technology

We integrate innovation in to companies' operational procedures. We are experts in managing and using all types of information, whether it is regulatory, business-critical or concise information for decision makers. We advise on, define and implement our clients' digital transformations, including their strategic planning, change management and process outsourcing. We are specialised in integrating analytical, business and regulatory systems in the context of complex projects and environments.

Operations & Transformation

Improving operational processes is an integral part of a company's strategic approach. Grant Thornton's proven track record in business process optimisation projects and support in multiple industries sets us apart. We use cutting-edge technologies and the latest trends to move processes and organisations towards excellence-based models.
